Councilman Dominic Persampiere

Councilman Dominic Persampiere holds the council office of Deputy Mayor and has been a driving force in the Oviedo City Council for the past ten years. Councilman Persampiere also served on the Land Planning Agency board in 1999/2000 prior to winning his seat on Council in September, 2000.

Councilman Persampiere's business interests are characterized as entrepreneurial and investor related. He attended Suffolk Community College and can be found pledging his time to the Oviedo Economic Development Committee, the Oviedo-Winter Springs Chamber of Commerce, Leadership Seminole and he is a yearly sponsor of the Oviedo Little League Challenger Division.

In his off time, Councilman Persampiere likes to golf (although he says he doesn't golf very well), watch College Football and cheer for his favorite NASCAR driver. He and wife Debbie have two daughters, Amanda and Krysta.
